The Census Bureau convenes an annual workshop with state partners, federal agencies, and public and private organizations with shared interest in the first quarter of every calendar year. The purpose of the annual workshop is to review progress, showcase use of data and analyses, solicit input and ideas, explore new concepts and uses, and discuss research and development directions for the coming years

The Census Bureau conducts training for workforce investment boards (WIBs) to help them use the Local Employment Dynamics information they need for decision-making.
